

BikeSpot Data Terms and Conditions

1. Introduction

These Terms and Conditions govern the use of data provided by BikeSpot. By accessing or using BikeSpot data, you agree to comply with these terms.

2. License and Permitted Use

BikeSpot data is provided under the Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial 4.0 International (CC BY-NC 4.0) license. Users may:

- Use the data for research, advocacy, and planning purposes.
- Share insights derived from the data with appropriate attribution to BikeSpot.
- Develop non-commercial tools or visualizations based on the data.

3. Restrictions

Users may not:

- Use the data for commercial purposes without prior written permission.
- Alter or manipulate the data in a way that misrepresents the findings.
- Use the data to identify or target individuals.
- Redistribute the raw dataset without BikeSpot's consent.

4. Attribution

Users must provide appropriate credit when using BikeSpot data. The following attribution is required in any publication, presentation, or report: "Data provided by BikeSpot (bikespot.com.au)."

5. Data Accuracy and Liability

BikeSpot data is provided "as is" without any warranties regarding accuracy, completeness, or fitness for a particular purpose. BikeSpot is not responsible for any consequences arising from its use, including but not limited to planning, policy, or infrastructure decisions.

6. Privacy and Ethical Use

BikeSpot takes privacy seriously. Data does not contain personally identifiable information (PII), and users must not attempt to de-anonymize or link it to individuals.

7. Modifications to Terms

BikeSpot reserves the right to modify these terms at any time. Users are responsible for reviewing updates periodically.

8. Contact Information

For inquiries about data usage or commercial licensing, please email hello@bikespot.org. By using BikeSpot data, you acknowledge and agree to these Terms and Conditions.
